

Impact Named a 2007 Maxwell Semi-Finalist

The Partnership to End Long-Term Homelessness, together with the Fannie Mae Foundation, sponsors the Annual Maxwell Awards for Excellence in the Production of Affordable Housing. These prestigious awards recognize creative and exciting programs across the country that are innovating new approaches to deliver quality affordable housing to needy populations.

Impact's Dual Diagnosis Program, was named as one of the 22 semi-finalists in the 2007 competition, out of a field of 102 candidates.

In its first 3 years of operation, the Dual Diagnosis Program has gained considerable attention and recognition as a model of a strong partnership between a federal agency and a community organization to provide joint services to veterans.
